According to Cpl. Joseph McDaniel of the Calaveras County Sheriff's Office, the body of Richards was discovered on Saturday, June 17, near the Honey Lake Overlook. The over-winter remains of Richards were discovered by a motorist who saw a piece of plastic with a distinctive "fish logo" on it lying on the roadway near the Honey Lake Overlook area. Police learned from Richards' wife, Cheryl of the time of his disappearance, and that Richards was driving his 2002 Jeep Wrangler near his home in Peach Tree. Richards also owns a 1976 Chevrolet truck that he had reported stolen to the California Highway Patrol. "We have no idea why he would be out there," McDaniel said. "We're going to try to learn why." Richards' wife reported him missing at 10 a.m. on June 13, according to police. The search for Richards began immediately. "It's a very remote area in the mountains," said McDaniel, adding that they spent the next day searching near Richards' residence, which is roughly 30 miles east of Calaveras Lake. "He was a little bit like a loner," McDaniel said, and they believe that someone in the area may have known Richards. Police have not released the name of the motorist who found the piece of plastic. Detectives are still trying to contact that motorist. "We're going to be working with the manufacturer and the manufacturer is still trying to figure out how the vehicle was equipped with that logo on the bumper," McDaniel said. "His family is devastated. We're going to work with them," McDaniel added. Once investigators determine the manufacturer of the piece of plastic, they will then attempt to contact the owner of the
