History Bible Code Oracle was originally written in . It was written for the purpose of helping Jewish people. It was first written by a single man named M.J. Gurr. It was originally a word puzzle but later became a code. It was made by searching through the Hebrew Bible and seeing how it worked. It was updated in June 2010 by the creators of The Bible Code and makes Bible codes searchable. It works like a simple QR Code reader. Features Bible Code Oracle works by reading the Hebrew text in a text document. It will search for words that match in the text. It can be used in both Hebrew and English. It can search for phrases as well as words. There are four options to search, Relevance, Characters, Values, and Symbols. Relevance Relevance searches for words in a document through a key and weights them accordingly. It works on the frequency of the word being searched. The higher the frequency, the bigger of a chance the word will be chosen. It will search for the number of times an English character, number, or punctuation mark appears in the text. Characters Characters searches for the characters in a document based on their frequency in the text. It works based on the frequency of each
